

← All articles

July 27th, 2016

La Chambre du Marais

Lifestyle

© Michel Blossier

Share

The interior of this new four-star hotel just a short walk from the Marché des Enfants Rouges is the work of Philippe Jégou, who previously worked with Jacques Garcia. The founder of Naos has come up with a clever combination of velvet, wood panelling and braiding in a palette of warm colours that is developed throughout the 19 spacious rooms and suites. The hotel stands out on so many levels, for example with its own interior fragrance created by Pierre Guillaume, an independent perfumer and the founder of the Parfumerie Générale. In addition to a bespoke concierge service, the hotel offers guests a 'Dream Menu', a concept imported from the USA that not only includes luxury bedding with a choice of pillow types, impeccably sound-proofed rooms and stress-relieving drinks, but also relaxation masks, the loan of a Dodow sleep lamp and a Kindle with access to a selection of e-books or a Zen playlist.

87 rue des Archives
75003 Paris, France
Tel.: +33 (0)1 44 78 08 00

www.lachambredumarais.com

Previous

Next

Okko Rueil Malmaison

[Renaissance Paris
République](#)

Recommended articles

04.20.16

Ismaël Carré: Searching for the invisible

Talents

06.09.16

CFOC's new horizons

Lifestyle

12.21.15

Rafael de Cárdenas, MAISON&OBJET AMERICAS 2016 Designer of the Year

Inside M&O

MAISON&OBJET PARIS

January 20-24, 2017

Enter M&O PARIS show

PARIS DESIGN WEEK

September 8-16, 2017

Discover Paris Design Week